"We should be happier to have a job than to have our savings protected" - Lagarde

They are not even pretending anymore. They intend to destroy the currencies, to try to save themselves. We've been warned.

Financial Times  @FinancialTimes

Christine Lagarde has asked Germany and the Netherlands to use their budget surpluses to fund investments that would help stimulate the economy. The soon-to-be president of the ECB said there 'isn't enough solidarity' in the single currency area. on.ft.com/2BS8CIM
