While I still believe #Bitcoin remains King this coming bull cycle through 2022, to me based on UTILITY potential, #Ether has a real shot at a flipping through 2025.

Consider a world where @Ethereum has successfully transitioned to a PoS model and has increased meterok security, throughout, and adoption. A world where ETH **fuels****:

1. Leading dApps
2. Global DeFi
3. IRL and VR/AR properties
4. Collectibles
5. Contracts

Now a comparison that has come up for several years of #Bitcoin vs #Ether is akin to Gold vs Oil.

One has unique scarcity while the other has a unique utility.

Now for #crypto, SoV is a much easier idea to comprehend vs token utility in a tokenized world.

As the world becomes more and more digital, we will be migrating from an oil fueled economy to a data/crypto fueled economy.
